

MEDIA AND WORK RELEASE FORM

From April 8-19, 2019 the Cities of Coral Springs and Parkland, Florida, along with the Coral Springs Museum of Art, are bringing the Scrollathon to your community as part of the Cities' Bloomberg Public Art Challenge program "The Power of Art: Inspiring Community Healing after Gun Violence." The Scrollathon will engage approximately 1,000 community members ("Participants") to create a collaborative artwork for display.

Participants will create an artwork to keep, create components for a collaborative artwork, and will be documented in photographs and video by Steven and William Ladd Inc., its affiliates, agents, assigns and representatives (collectively "Artists"). The collaborative artwork and documentation ("Works") will be the property of the Artists and may be used in a video, pamphlet, on www.scrollathon.com, Artists' social media, and other periodicals.

Parent/Guardian/Participant hereby consents to and irrevocably grants to Artists the perpetual right to own, use, reproduce, display, distribute, perform publicly, edit, alter and/or create derivatives of the Works or any part thereof and all materials related thereto in any manner for the purpose of promoting, discussing, and/or commenting upon Artists, its programs, events and activities, in all markets regardless of method or medium of transmission, reproduction, publication, display, storage, and/or communication. Participant hereby waives the right to inspect or approve any such use of the Works and expressly stipulates that the Artists may utilize the Works or not as they choose in their sole discretion without affecting the validity of this release.

Parent/Guardian/Participant hereby irrevocably and unconditionally releases the Artists from and waives any causes of action in law or equity that Participant may have or may hereafter acquire against the Artists arising out of or relating to the Works. Artists are not responsible for images or recordings, or use thereof, produced by The City of Coral Springs or any other party.
